[From English Papers received at the office of the Philadelphia Gazette.

London, Nov. 15.

THE PRINCESS CHARLOTTE.

The funeral of the lamented princess and her royal infant is fixed to take place on Wednesday evening next, by torch light. The lord mayor had yesterday an interview with the secretary of state on the subject. His lordship, in consequence, has determined that no business whatever, as connected with the magistracy of the city, shall take place. The Mansion-house and Guildhall will be completely closed. The lord mayor intends also to issue notices, calling upon his fellow citizens to close their shops and houses, to suspend all business, and to attend Divine worship on the mournful occasion. It is further proposed by his lordship, that not only the great bell of St. Paul's, but that all other church bells throughout the city should continue to toll at intervals each day, previous to, but more particularly on the day of the funeral.

The heart of the lamented princess will be enclosed in an urn, which will be placed on her coffin, and, like that, will be covered with crimson Genoa velvet, richly ornamented. A small medallion on it will contain a short inscription. The urn has been turned out of solid oak, and will be lined with lead.

The royal cemetery in which the remains of our beloved Princess will be deposited, was constructed in 1810, by order of his Majesty, at the east end of St. George's Chapel, for the burial place of himself and the other members of the Royal Family — Henry VII. first built this edifice of freestones for a similar purpose; but that prince afterwards altering his intentions, began a more noble structure at Westminister, and this fabric remained neglected, until Cardinal Wolsey obtained a grant of it from Henry VIII and with a profusion of expence unknown in former ages, designed and began here a most sumptuous monument for himself, from whence the building obtained the name of "Wosley's Tomb-House." The corpse of the late amiable Princess Amelia, his Majesty's youngest daughter was the first to repose in this sacred abode. Seven years ago did her funeral take place and next Wednesday will it be followed by the still more lamentable funeral of her in whom we fondly anticipated our future Sovereign, and of her Infant Prince. What a melancholy illustration of the uncertainty of human life!

Russian Squadron.—Extract from a letter from the Agents to Lloyd's, at Gottenburgh, dated the 4th inst.—"A Russian squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Moller, reported to be bound to Cadiz, consisting of five line of battle-ships, and three frigates, anchored in Wingo Sound, having experienced heavy gales of wind in the Cattegat; they have sustained but little damage, with the loss, however, of some anchors and cables. The Mercurius frigate, one of the above three, parted company from the squadron in the Cattegat, & some doubts are entertained of her safety, she not having yet reached the appointed anchorage."

Paris papers to Nov. 4th, and Gibraltar papers to Nov. 12th have been received in New-York.

Lisbon, Oct. 16, 1817

Yesterday the Court of Inconfidencia passed sentence on the conspirators detected in May last, and condemned Lieut. Gen. Gomes Freire, Col, Monterio. Ensign Pinto da Silva, Ensign Riberio Pinto, Major das Neves, Joze de Miranda, Henry Joze Garcia, and Antonio Lamos, to be hanged until dead, then to be beheaded, the bodies and heads burnt, and the ashes thrown into the sea. Capt. Ricardo, Capt. Monterio, Manuel de Figueiredo, Francisco de Souza, to be banished for life; and others for a term of years. The property of most of the culprits is confiscated. Three of the suspected were acquitted.

Oct. 18. This day, the sentences mentioned in the above article were carried into execution.

CHINA.

Intelligence from St. Petersburg says, that the Russian Asiatick Company has acquainted the government, that its latest arrivals from China brought an account of the desire of the Emperor of China to see foreign ambassadors at his court, upon the same footing as at the European ones, being anxious to maintain constant diplomatick relations with them. Are we to understand from this, if it be authentick, that the head of the Celestial Empire is willing to spare the heads of foreign ambassadors from the nine thumps of the Ko-Ton?

The London Traveller of the 7th states "with deep regret, that the fever still continues to spread its ravages in Ireland From Cork to Derry, the reports are particularly alarming. The Hospitals are crowded and the exterior patients numerous in all ranks, the most respectable not excepted.

Black Beard the Pirate.—In the former part of the eighteenth or last century, a gang of pirates, having their head-quarters in the Bahamas, spread dismay and terror far and near. The leader of the gang was John Teach, known by the name of Black Beard. Of that desperado the following account is given in Mr. M'Kinnen's Tour in the West Indies.—Con. Cour.

"This extraordinary man," says Mr. M'Kinnen, "had united in his fortunes a desperate and formidable gang of pirates, styling himself their commodore, and assuming the authority of a legitimate chief.—Under a wild fig-tree, the trunk of which still remains, and was shown to me in the eastern part of the town, he used to sit in council among his banditti, concerting or promulgating his plans, and exercising the authority of a magistrate. His piracies were often carried on near the English settlements on the coasts of North-America, where he met with extraordinary success. Perhaps in the history of human depravity, it would be difficult to select actions more brutal and extravagant than Black Beard's biographer has recorded of him. As the narrative to which I allude is generally credited, and bears strong internal evidence of truth, it may be amusing to mention a few particulars of a man who was for some time considered as sovereign of this island."

"In person, as well as disposition, this desperado, who was a native of England, seems to have been qualified for the chief of a gang of thieves. The effect of his beard, which gave a natural ferocity to his countenance, he was always solicitous to heighten, by suffering it to grow to an enormous length, and twisting it about in small tails like a Rammillies wig; whence he derived the name of Black Beard. His portrait in time of action is described as that of a complete fury; with three braces of pistols in holsters slung over his shoulders like bandoleers, and lighted matches under his hat, sticking out over each of his ears. All authority as well as admiration amongst the pirates was conferred on those who, committing every outrage on humanity displayed the greatest audacity and extravagance."

Mr. M'Kinnen relates that, among other diabolical extravagances of Black Beard, he once "collected a quantity of sulphur and combustible materials between the decks of his vessel; when, kindling a flame, and shutting down the hatches upon his crew, he involved himself with them literally in fire and brimstone. With oaths and frantic gestures, he then acted the part of the devil, as little affected by the smoke as if he had been born in the infernal regions; till his companions, nearly suffocated, and fainting, compelled him to release them."

"He was afterwards conquered, rather than apprehended, by an expedition fitted out for the purpose, after a most desperate resistance, in which he killed almost all the crews of the vessels sent against him; and he died, with most of his gang, in the battle."

There is reason to believe that the Negociations pending at Washington between Spain and the United States have closed, at least for the present, without any satisfactory result.

There is reason to believe that the British minister at Washington protested against a transfer of East Florida by Spain to the United States.

There is reason to conjecture that the negociations with the Spanish minister at Washington have unexpectedly closed, in consequence of the interference of the British Minister at Madrid.

There is reason to conjecture that if Amelia Island and East Florida are not occupied and guarded by American troops, they will be, or would be occupied and guarded by British troops.

There is reason to apprehend that Great Britain means to adopt a new principle of action, namely, that acquisition of territories by purchase, is to be resisted and prevented, as if it were acquisition of territory by force of arms, because it is an alteration of the equilibrium of power.

There is reason to apprehend that our relations with Spain are assuming a very unfavorable aspect; and that our relations with England are not as serene at the bottom as they appear to be at the top.

There is reason to believe a good deal, and to apprehend a good deal, more than the outside of things seems to bespeak at this moment. [Dem. Press.

From the Boston Centinel.

—100—YEARS!—

A scene novel, interesting and pathetic, occurred a few days since at the Court House at Easton. Among the several debtors, who had been imprisoned in the county of Northampton, and who were about to take the benefit of the insolvent act of Pennsylvania, appeared before the court Jacob Titus, a man aged "99 years." His tall, furrowed and worn out majesty of form, tottering, reclining o'er an oaken staff, his only support, in the 100th year of his age; relinquishing by oath his little all to a merciless creditor of another age, and another generation, to free the remnant of a century from the captivity of a jail!!!

Trembling with years he arose from his seat, and repeated the oath of resignation. The court liberated him: when he was told "that he might go where he pleased," tears burst in his eyes, an involuntary sob audibly trembled on his withered lips, and his heart seemed surcharged with grief, borne down with the weight of years. The crowd gathering around, sympathy prompted many to

"Pity the sorrows of [this] poor old man, Whose days are dwindled to the shortest span."

Sacrilege.—A fellow by the name of Smith, was sent to Bridewell last Saturday, on the charge of stealing the plate from a coffin, which was placed in a vault in the church yard in this city. We understand Smith is a grave digger by occupation,—N. Y. Ev. Post.

A letter from Washington hints, that should the commutation Bill pass, more than One hundred thousand dollars will be put by it into the pockets of some of the most flashy and exclusive patriots of the day. Should it prove true it will only furnish another proof of the aptitude of a couplet of our favorite M'Fingal, who speaking of mock patriots, says

"They sigh and groan
For public good: but mean their own.

A correspondent of the Pittsfield Sun, on this subject says, "This project of the commutation, I think, will not pass. Although it was introduced by a very honest man, it is believed, by many, to be founded in fraud.—The effect of it would be to advance the price of the bounty land to the maximum proposed by the bill, but speculators who have already engrossed a large portion of these lands would retain every valuable lot, and commute only for the most worthless, thereby throwing back upon the government a body of waste and useless land, while the soldier would reap no solid advantage from the measure. I advise all soldiers who have not parted with their warrants to retain them, for I understand the territory in which the land lies is by far the best portion of the western world, no part of the bounty land in Illinois is more than fifteen miles from navigable waters.—Bos. Cen.

Education.—It appears by a report made by a committee appointed for that purpose, that the number of children educated at the public expense in the town of Boston amounts to 2,366, of both sexes. There are besides, 4,132 children educated at 164 private schools (including eight supported by female benevolent societies) at the expense of the parents. The population of Boston is enumerated at 40,000 souls; and out of this number there are only 283 children between the age of four and seven, and 243 above seven, who do not attend any school.

The sudden dissolution of the daughter and only child of the Prince Regent of England, has made an alteration in the succession, not altogether pleasing to the British people. The following list of the Regent's Brother's, will show the line of succession. Females being excluded by the British Constitution, unless the immediate issue of the Sovereign or Heir Apparent.

I. FREDERICK, Duke of York, born August 16, 1763—married to a sister of the King of Prussia about thirteen years ago. No issue.

II. William Henry, Duke of Clarence, born August 21 1765. Not married.

III. Edward, Duke of Kent, born November 2, 1767. Not married.

IV. Ernest Augustus, Duke of Cumberland, born June 5, 1771—married to Sophia Caroline, Dowager Princess of Solms-Brunfels. No issue.

V. Augustus Frederick, Duke of Sussex, born January 27, 1773. Not married.

VI. Frederick, Duke of Cambridge, born February 24, 1774. Not married.

"As a political event," says a London paper, "the death of her Royal Highness is of a serious description, considering the ages and circumstances in which several of the members of the Royal family are placed. Including the Duke of Gloucester and his sister, there are not less than fourteen English princes and princesses in succession. With respect to the other collateral branches of the family, there are one child, five grand children, and four great grand children of the Dutchess of Brunswick, and two children and two grand children of the Queen of Denmark, his Majesty's sisters to whom the crown will devol on failure of lineal descendants from native princes.

PITTSBURGH.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1818

On Tuesday last, JOHN DARRAGH, Esq. was unanimously re-elected Mayor of this city for the ensuing year.

PITTSBURGH ACADEMY.

A gentleman, who attended the late examination of the students of the Pittsburgh Academy, cannot forbear giving this public testimony of the extreme satisfaction he experienced, on that occasion; an occasion calculated to call forth the best feelings of the christian, and of the patriot. The strict attention which, it is evident, has been paid to impressing the elementary parts of their studies on the minds of the alumni of this institution, reflects great honour on the hearts as well as on the heads, of the tutors; these gentlemen appear to have a just conception of the sacred duties of their profession.

The grammar classes of Mr Stockton & the mathematical and geographical classes of Mr. Bruce, deserve particular notice; the pupils, in their replies, were literally correct, and appeared at the same time, not to depend upon memory alone, but upon their actual comprehension of the subject; a strong proof of the efficacy of the method adopted in this school. The system pursued by Mr. Bruce, in his department, is in a peculiar manner commendable, and displays a great degree of judgment on the part of this gentleman,—sketching a proper outline for the tyro, is, beyond comparison, the best method of fixing a science on his mind.

The arrangement which Mr. Stockton has made in the Latin and Greek grammar studies is highly judicious, and is an example of that "lucidus ordo" so necessary to render this study intelligible at first—indeed the whole scene was conducted in a style most gratifying; nor did the least part of the gratification proceed from observing the neatness with which the copy-books of the younger boys were kept.

N.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

House of Representatives.—Nothing of particular interest has occurred since the meeting of the house. On the 7th inst. Mr. Marks offered the following resolution.

Resolved, That the committee on Banks be required to inquire and report to this house on the propriety of taxing the United States Bank and the branches thereof that are or may be established in this state, and that the said committee have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

The New York Columbian says, Mr. Gallatin has demanded of the French Government indemnity for the spoliations on our commerce, and requested a written answer, which was declined till the affairs of France assumed a more prosperous and settled state,

Bank Profits.—The Bank of Augusta in Georgia, has lately made the following semi-annual dividend:—

Regular profits, so called,	6 per cent.
Surplus ditto	10 ditto
Profit, in extension of capital,	21 ditto
Total.	37 per cent.

Which is at the rate of 74 per cent per annum.

SURRENDER OF AMELIA ISLAND.

Despatches received from the commander of the forces of the United States, on our southern border, have brought official information of the occupation of Amelia Island on the 24th ult. by the U. States troops under the command of Col. Bankhead, co-operating with the naval force on that station, under the command of Capt. Henley. [Nat. Intel. of June 6.

It has been stated in the public prints, in a variety of shapes; in some as a positive fact; in others upon conjecture, that Mr. Bagot, the British Minister here, had protested against the transfer by Spain, of East Florida to the U. States. We have taken pains to ascertain the truth of this statement, and are warranted in assuring our readers that it is altogether without foundation.——ib.

VIRGINIA.—The entire amount of the revenue of Virginia, for the year 1817, is stated by the auditor at $504,500 25; and the expenditures at $562,873 23—leaving a balance against the revenue of nearly sixty thousand dollars.

WASHINGTON, January 7.

Compensation to Members of Congress.

Mr. Holmes, from the committee to whom it was referred to fix upon a proper compensation to be allowed to members of Congress, brought up a bill for that purpose; according to the provisions of which, should it pass, the compensation to members of both houses will be nine dollars per day each, and to the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives eighteen dollars per day each. The bill was read twice, referred to a committee of the house for to-morrow, and ordered to be printed.

We notice with pleasure, (says the Albany Argus) that large cables, anchors and other apparatus for the steam boat, now building on Lake Erie, have reached this city, on their way to Buffalo. We are informed it is the intention of the projectors of this novel enterprise, residing in this city, to put the boat in operation by the 20th of June next. We also learn, that contractors have gone on from Boston, to construct two light houses on Lake Erie; that the oil for them is on the river, and that it is intended to light them at the opening of the navigation in the spring.

It is understood, (says the Philadelphia Gaz.) that Bird Wilson Esq. President Judge of the seventh Judicial District of Pennsylvania, composed of the counties of Delaware, Chester, Montgomery & Bucks, has resigned.

Colonel NEEDHAM, with his brother officers, lately discharged from imprisonment in this city, took their departure yesterday, under circumstances we are happy to say, calculated to retrieve our character for liberality if not for neutrality; having received from the munificence of a number of gentlemen of Philadelphia, a sum perhaps equal to the losses and expences incurred by their arrest and incarceration. This is another evidence of the claims of our city to its reputation for benevolence and charity. We believe Col Needham & his associates to have been most unwarrantably detained, and should have been highly gratified, if Congress, on their liberation, had appropriated something to alleviate their privations if not to repair their wrongs.—True Amer.

LOSS OF THE MAIL.

The eastern mail which left Cincinnati on Wednesday last, was lost in the east fork of the Little Miami. From the representations we have received of this affair, it appears to have been the result of carelessness in the carrier, who was unacquainted with the road. Many of our merchants will feel the loss severely. We understand the bags contained large remittances in bank paper.

CHEROKEES AND OSAGES.

A battle has taken place between the Cherokees and their allies, and the Osages, near the Arkansas. A Shwanoe chief, friend of the Cherokees, says, the allies had only one man killed, the Osages 83, and 100 prisoners. Among the baggage of the Osages were said to be found several scalps of white men.

Milledgeville, Dec. 23....We understand that the troops under the command of gen. Glascock, marched from Fort Hawkins on Tuesday last, for the Seminole nation.

Gen. Floyd, in compliance with orders from the executive, has directed brigadier general Francis Hopkins to detail and organise from his brigade without delay, 500 men, to be held subject to the order of general Gaines.

LONDON, Nov. 14.

The captain of the Spanish government brig, which attacked the U. States schr. Firebrand, some months ago, has been tried by a court martial at the Havanna, and broke. The captain of a frigate who assisted in the attack, has been sent home to old Spain to have his conduct investigated.

Nov. 15.—The Russian fleet sold to Spain has passed the Belt, and, it is said, will proceed direct to Cadiz, without stopping at any port in England.

A Flanders mail contradicts the report that Spain is to cede some territory in return for the Russian fleet from Revel, delivered over to her. The payment, it is said, is to be made in money, 400,000l. which she is to receive from us for the abolition of the slave trade.

The city of Soleure, says a late French paper, has had the melancholy privilege of rendering the last duties to General Kosciuszko. The remains of that hero were exposed, dressed in black, on a couch of state; and on the 19th of October carried solemnly to the Church of the Jesuits, attended by the poor, the religious corporations, several members of the government, and a crowd of citizens of all classes, eager to render him his last homage. No pomp, no military flourish, disturbed his ashes, but they were blessed and bedewed by the tears of all good men, His body reposes in a leaden coffin, and will probably be carried to Poland.

Valuable Real estate for sale.

PURSUANT to the last Will and Testament of the late Col. RICHARD BROWN, deceased I NOW OFFER FOR SALE,

The Farm on which he resided,

On the Ohio River, in Holliday's Cove, in Brook County, Virginia.

This Estate consists of about 700 Acres of Land, 250 of which is a rich Island, the remainder principally second bottom and upland; that part of the upland which is not tillable, is covered with timber suitable for furnishing the Island and tillable part with fencing and building timber. There is between 150 and 200 acres cleared and under cultivation, a suitable proportion of which in good meadow land. The buildings consist in two log dwelling houses and a log barn with under story of stone. It is well supplied with very fine prings of good water.

The situation of this property on the Ohio River five miles from the flourishing Town of Steubenville, and in the neighbourhood of several Merchant Mills, Iron Works, &c. renders it a desirable object to a person who would wish to farm extensively, as he would probably at all times find a good market at his door for the produce of his farm. A part of the purchase will be required in hand, and for the remainder a reasonable credit will be given.

BEZ. WELLS, Executor.
